UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF NEVADA

IN RE: COURT OPERATIONS UNDER THE EXIGENT CIRCUMSTANCES CREATED
BY COVID-19 AND RELATED CORONAVIRUS

THIRD AMENDED TEMPORARY
GENERAL ORDER 2020-03

In response to the recent outbreak of the coronavirus disease 2019 (“COVID-19”) in the District of Nevada, the Court has issued a series of general orders to address the Court’s efforts to mitigate the spread of COVID-19. See Temporary General Orders 2020-02, 2020-03, 2020-04, 2020-05, 2020-08, 2020-9.¹ To reflect the Court’s commitment to gradually resuming in-person proceedings and jury trials, on August 27, 2020, the Court issued an amended order to allow jury trials to proceed in accordance with the Court’s internal plan for resuming jury trials. See, e.g., Temporary General Orders 2020-03 (as amended), 2020-08. However, given the pattern of sustained increase in COVID-19 transmission rates in the State of Nevada,² the Court has once

² For example, daily new cases by specimen collection date are at their second-highest level of any point in the pandemic, and have been increasing rapidly as of late. See Nevada Health Response, <https://nvhealthresponse.nv.gov/> (last visited Nov. 10, 2020) (by navigating to the table, and then selecting the "Confirmed Case Trends" tab). Further, the highest number of daily active cases are in Clark and Washoe County, where this District's courthouses are located. See id. (by navigating to the table, selecting the "Statistics by County" tab, and then sorting by "Cases per 100,000"). Both Clark and Washoe counties are also showing increases in their case rate per 100,000, and test positivity rate, approaching or exceeding their highest levels to date. See id. (by navigating to the table, selecting the "County Tracker Trends" tab, and then viewing both the "Case Rate per 100,000" and "Test Positivity Rate" tabs). Moreover, as to 20 more than 25 people together indoors, allowing jury trials to proceed would conflict with this prevailing public-health guidance. Finally, Nevada Governor Steve Sisolak recently 21 announced a directive he calls “Stay at Home 2.0.” At a press conference on November 10, 2020, he said:

22 For the next two weeks, we must mimic our stay-at-home behaviors from this 23 past spring,” Sisolak said at a press conference Tuesday evening. “If we do so, we believe we can begin to turn around things in two weeks without having to place increased restrictions on our businesses or our schools.”
